Automated clock control system - £250 + VAT

Not only has our Resynchroniser control system been designed to restart the clock at the correct time after a power failure, it also comes programmed to carry out fully automated summer winter time changes for the next 20 years. This state of the art system is usually built into the clock mechanism box making installing easy, however when required they can be supplied as stand alone units. Our usual retail price is £380 + VAT.
